

DENNIS A. ROBBINS Ph.D., M.P.H.

Overview

Dennis Robbins, a catalytic influencer, rejuvenates health and healthcare by aligning diverse ecosystems to solve complex and challenging issues.

Strong experience in:

- Healthcare sector
- Wellness
- Ethics
- Payment and reimbursement
- Branding
- Medical devices
- Entertainment
- Digital innovation
- Health law and policy

For more than 40 years he advised Federal, Fortune 100 companies, Presidential and White house commissions, the military health system, start-ups, and two US Supreme Court cases.

His work on person-centricity™ has stimulated a major shift in how we think about the culture of health and life that will help not only make a difference in one's health, but will also add years to our lives and life to our years.

On the wellness front, he integrates diverse elements to help bend the sickness curve:

- Technologies
- Behavioral economics
- Gamification
- Exercise physiology
- Sleep
- Mindfulness
- Healthy eating
- Recapturing your life

He was a dominant force in the Hospice movement working to promote the Hospice Medicare benefit across both aisles. His legacy of 11 books, 400+ articles, and editorial board positions, is complemented by a plethora of keynote presentations and panels.
